The diagram illustrates a network of connections between years from 2008 to 2018. The nodes are years, and the edges are lines of varying thickness representing the strength of the connections. The diagram is highly interconnected, with many nodes having multiple incoming and outgoing edges. The years 2014, 2015, 2016, and 2017 appear to be central nodes with many connections. The edges are labeled with numbers, likely representing the weight or frequency of the connections. The overall structure is a dense web of relationships between the years.
